The tax rate for the year 1932 was fixed last night in a special meeting of the board of aldermen. The rate this year will again be $175 on the dollar of the grand list. The board also adopted the tax budget for the coming year. In the budget the amount set aside for the criminal and police department is $29,000, as against $18,000 last year. This increase is due to the fact that the police department has been

COST OF THIS YEAR'S POLITICS

(From the Washington Telegram.)

Presidential primaries are too expensive for the people of this country. The election of delegates to the national conventions of the two leading parties has cost about $200,000. That is the largest bill the country has ever paid for the kind of political preparation for the selection of two candidates for president. It is a luxury that hurts in these days of high cost of living. The primaries are largely responsible for that. The expenses of the candidates in the States are still clinging to the old method of collecting by district and State conventions have not spent more than the ordinary small amounts for such political preparation. The States in which the primaries have been used have run up the expenses so much that the total is beyond all precedent. That is for the taxpayers to pay not for the politicians. The special efforts put out by candidates are not taken by the cash expenses, and never will be. The cash expenses are coming from the money spent in such States as recent reports of political expenses the candidates have put out more than $2,000,000 to further their claims. More than half of that has been furnished by the Roosevelt boomers, but the Taft, Wilson, Clark, Harmon, La Follette, Underwood and Cummins backers have paid in a good deal of money. Well up to $200,000 is said to be the total expense of the candidates in the conventions, and there is no telling how much more there is to cost at Chicago and Baltimore. The total expenses up to inauguration of a president may be well on toward $5,000,000. Heavy per poor country.

end of the pipe is put into a vessel of water, the downward if the water is at the same level level in one vessel is lower than the other, since the two vessels are filled with a pipe full of water, the water will run down from the higher level to the lower. This constitutes what is called a siphon. A siphon itself is more magic about it than a pencil
